MEMORANDUM FOR: Contract Personnel Division

25X1A

SUBJECT: Suspended Leave Account - [REDACTED]

1. In the financial settlement of Subject's case, a question has been raised by Finance Division as to the actual constituent elements of a suspended leave account in a termination situation. Although no difficulty is encountered in establishing the amount of leave to be credited to a suspended leave account during the period of cover employment, which justifies the leave account in the first place, it is not so clear as to whether such an account in protecting all leave earned up to its establishment includes protection for that which exceeds the individual's end-of-the-year annual leave maximum.

2. It would be appreciated if you would address an appropriate ruling to Finance Division to facilitate the earliest settlement of the case. Although our immediate interest is limited to the [REDACTED] case, as you interpret it, it is understood that Finance Division also has an interest in this problem in general.
